The Swedish ticket collaboration Resplus

RES PLUS

Multimodal traveling

Samtrafiken and Resplus

Samtrafiken connects Swedens public and private transport operators, coordinates all national transport data, as well as developing and maintaining ticketing standards.

Through our service Resplus, transport operators can offer combined and multimodal travel across the country by bundling each others' products.

The Swedish Transport System

- 21 Public Transport Authorities (PTA)
- Railway, bus, and boat companies running traffic on behalf of the PTAs
- Commercial traffic companies on a deregulated market

Resplus in short

- A journey combined of two or more operators
- Distributed through a large national and international network
- Central administration of prices, products and tickets
- Resplus terms and conditions apply through the entire journey

Simple traveling through all of Sweden

Benefits of Resplus

Travelers get:

- Travel planning with all timetables in Sweden in one search
- The entire journey in one ticket
- Multimodality – long distance rail, bus coaches, urban public transport and near coast ferries
- Reliability with reasonable interchange times
- Safety in situations of disturbance since all operators cooperate

Benefits of Resplus

The operators get:

- Sales through hundreds of national and international sales channels without any technical integrations
- Being sold together with all public transport and long distance ground transport in Sweden
- Reaching customers in different areas of Sweden
- Simplicity through one agreement only, with Samtrafiken

What's up ahead?

Resplus future

- Digital tickets with Swedish standard (BoB)
- Tickets compatible with operators validation
- Better customer experience
